- i. the University of Liverpool, an exempt charity, of The Foundation Building, 765 Brownlow Hill, Liverpool L69 7ZX
- ii. Khon Kaen University, 123 Mittraphap Road, Muang, Khon Kaen 40002 Thailand

Collectively referred to as "the Parties" or as the context permits "Party"

The University of Liverpool (UoL) was one of the first civic universities in the UK. Founded in 1881 with the establishment of University College Liverpool, the College opened in 1882 with a first intake of 45 students. Today, the University is a member of the prestigious Russell Group and has over 230 first-degree courses offered across 103 subjects. It has over 18,000 registered students and an annual income of nearly £365 million, which includes £110 million for research.

Khon Kaen University (KKU), a national public research university and a central hub of education in northeast Thailand and the Mekong sub-region. KKU was established in 1964 and has developed itself to become one of the top universities in Thailand. KKU currently has more than 40,000 students studying in 17 faculties, 1 satellite campus, 1 school, and 3 colleges and in 43 International/English programs which cover a wide variety of disciplines.

No part of this Memorandum of Understanding shall be legally binding except Clauses 8 and 9.

1. The Parties intend to establish a Memorandum of Understanding for the mutual benefit of both parties. The Parties propose to explore the following areas of co-operation as set out in the clauses below:
 - i. the exchange of scientific and technical knowledge and materials
 - ii. joint research activities
 - iii. faculty and administrative staff exchanges
 - iv. student exchange at graduate level
 - v. other activities of mutual interest
2. Any mutual projects to be implemented in the context of this Agreement shall be governed by the regulatory frameworks of both Parties and shall be subject to separate formal institutional and programme agreements which have been approved by the appropriate bodies within the two Parties in advance and shall depend on the availability of funds. No guarantee is given that such funds shall be available from either Party.

3. Both Parties shall jointly publish results arising from this co-operation in accordance with usual academic practice. In the event of publication by one Party, the other Party shall be asked to give prior written consent.
4. Both Parties shall be free to use any scientific and technical information created or transferred in the course of the collaborative activities described in Article 1 above for their own research and development purposes. However, any use by either Party of the other Party's background information for research and development purposes shall be the subject of a separate agreement.
5. Each Party shall own all IP which is generated by its staff, students and agents pursuant to this Memorandum. Each Party grants to the other a royalty-free perpetual irrevocable licence to use such IP for their own internal teaching and research purposes.
6. In the event that both Parties are responsible for jointly generating IP, such IP shall be jointly owned in accordance with the inventive contribution made by each Party. If such IP is capable of commercial exploitation neither Party shall exploit without the consent of the other and on terms to be agreed.
7. This MoU and all documents and information provided by one Party to the other Party under, or in connection with the negotiation of this MoU or any subsequent contractual undertakings shall be treated as confidential ("the Confidential Information"). The Confidential Information shall not be used except for the purposes for which it was made available and the Confidential Information shall not be disclosed to any other person without the prior written consent of the disclosing Party.
8. Neither Party will be in breach of any obligation to keep any Confidential Information confidential or not to disclose it to any other party to the extent that it:
 - i. is known to the Party making the disclosure before its receipt and not subject to any obligation of confidentiality to another party; or
 - ii. is or becomes publicly known without any breach of this MoU or any other undertaking to keep it confidential; or
 - iii. has been obtained by the Party making the disclosure from a third party in circumstances where the Party making the disclosure has no reason to believe that there has been a breach of an obligation of confidentiality; or
 - iv. has been independently developed by the Partner making the disclosure; or
 - v. is disclosed pursuant to the requirement of any law or regulation or the order of any Court of competent jurisdiction, and the Party required to make that disclosure has informed the other Party whose information it is, within a reasonable time after being required to make the disclosure, of the requirement to make the disclosure and the information required to be disclosed; or
 - vi. is approved for release in writing by an authorised representative of the Party whose information it is.
9. In the execution of this Agreement both Parties shall observe the legislative and regulatory framework in their respective countries.
