Calculation of GPA shall only include the academic scores of a formal curriculum. Academic scores obtained as a research student or during a Japanese language school should be excluded. GPA shall be calculated at the end of each academic year and shall not include mid-year results. In case that the university follows the semester system and if the academic results of the first semester has been confirmed, please calculate GPA of the last two years from the semester in which the academic result was confirmed.

In case that the coefficient cannot be calculated, please explain why the calculation could not be performed and provide the reason why the GPA is assumed to be over 2.30.

Reasons such as “because of the excellent research content” will not be accepted. The reason should be grounded on an objective evidence. If you want to calculate the scores using academic scores from multiple universities, please see the “calculation method of GPA” described here and adjust to the calculation standard.

After calculating the scores based on the table below, apply them to the formula shown next page.

Method to calculate GPA

Type of evaluation	Obtained score
4-point scale		Excellent	Good	Fair	Failure
4-point scale		A	B	C	F
4-point scale		100~80	79~70	69~60	59~
5-point scale	S	A	B	C	F
5-point scale	A	B	C	D	F
5-point scale	100~90	89~80	~70	69~60	59~
Grade Point	3	3	2	1	0

Calculation Formula

$$\{ (\text{Units of GP3} \times 3) + (\text{Units of GP2} \times 2) + (\text{Units of GP1} \times 1) + (\text{Units of GP0} \times 0) \} \div \text{All the registered units}$$

Note 1) If your grading system is not based on units, it can be replaced to the number of subjects.

Note 2) If you have been transferred from another university, please only use the units obtained after you have been transferred to the current university. The grade points from the previous university (the university you enrolled before the transfer) shall also be calculated.

Note 3) Any evaluation other than the ones described in the table above, such as “qualification” or “pass”, shall be excluded.

Note 4) If the grade point calculated has a fraction, please round it down to two decimal places.

Note 5) If you have been enrolled for less than two years in your current university, which grades the academic performance of their students every half year and the total number of your enrollment years at universities has a fraction which is less than one year because your previous university grades the academic performance of their students once a year, your GPA should be calculated based on your grades in the last two and a half years.
